2. Key features of the credit product
The type of credit	Overdraft.
The total amount of credit. This means the amount of credit to be provided under the agreement or the credit limit.	Your credit limit is the total amount we agree in advance that you can borrow at any time using your overdraft. We decide how much we will allow you to borrow based on your credit rating and other information about you. If we agree to offer you an overdraft facility we will tell you the credit limit we will allow when we send your overdraft agreement terms to confirm your overdraft. We can change your limit from time to time. Your overdraft agreement terms give more details about when we might do this.
The duration of the credit agreement.	This arranged overdraft will expire on the first anniversary of the completion date of your final year of study (the expiry date). We will treat the completion date of your final year of study as the end date of your full-time education course that was detailed in your application for a Student Current Account. If your circumstances change, e.g. you extend your studies, or cease studying, you must tell us as soon as possible and provide us with such evidence of the change as we reasonably request. We will review this arranged overdraft before the expiry date and will contact you again at this time.
Repayment of the credit.	You may be required to repay all amounts owed to us in full on the expiry date of your overdraft agreement or immediately on our written demand, at any time.

Termination of the credit agreement.	This arranged overdraft will end on the expiry date unless it is terminated earlier by you or us. You can terminate the agreement at any time by repaying all amounts owed to us. You should also contact us to arrange for your overdraft facility to be removed from your account. We can also terminate the agreement at any time before the expiry date by giving you at least two months' notice in writing.
	We may end the agreement and terminate your overdraft immediately, without notice, if we reasonably decide that:
	(a) you are seriously or repeatedly in breach of the terms and conditions of the overdraft or the linked current account;
	(b) you or any other authorised signatory or joint account holder of the overdraft or the linked current account are made bankrupt or enter into an Individual Voluntary Arrangement after you open an account; or
	(c) you or any other authorised signatory or joint account holder of the overdraft or the linked current account:
	 has carried out or tried to carry out fraudulent or illegal activity on the overdraft, the linked current account or any other service we operate, or we have reason to think you or they may do so in the future;
	 has caused or may cause us to breach any law, regulation, code of practice or other duty which applies to us as a bank;
	 has behaved improperly towards us or anyone providing services to us (for example, if you have threatened, abused or harassed a member of staff);
	 has given false or materially incomplete information when applying to open the overdraft, the linked current account or to use any service, or at any time thereafter; or has allowed a person who is not an authorised signatory to use the overdraft, the linked current account or any other service we provide.
	You are required to repay all amounts owed to us by your use of this overdraft on the expiry date or immediately on our written demand. We will normally give you warning that your arranged overdraft must be repaid or its limit reduced, but we may ask for repayment without notice. The expiry date may be extended by us following an enquiry from you to change your credit limit.
	You can close your account at any time. If you terminate the overdraft and interest is payable on all or part of the overdraft, you will need to pay all interest which has been incurred during the period before the agreement can be terminated.
Consultation with a credit reference agency.
